North Dakota Real Estate Salesperson Pre-licensure School Approval

I have reviewed the application and course materials for the 90-hour salesperson pre-licensure education course offered by Cooke Real Estate School. My review concludes that the school and course meet the requirements for a 90-hour pre-licensure course required for qualified candidates desiring to take the North Dakota salesperson examination.

The Cooke Real Estate School salesperson education course is approved as a 90-hour pre-licensure school and course in North Dakota. No course number is assigned to this school or course. The approval is valid through April 7, 2028 and includes approval of the course instructors the school submitted for this course.

Please continue to provide me with course participants, any new course instructors and their completed applications, and other information as outlined in North Dakota Administrative Code 70-02-02 and 70-02-04.

Thank you for providing this education.
